

Pastoral Candidate

St. John Church is looking for a pastoral candidate who doesn't shy away from an adventure. We are a congregation looking for a person who has energy and takes initiative. Are you someone who is emotionally secure, likes people and yearns for the wide-open spaces of the high plains? Would you consider becoming part of our faith community?

St. John Church is in Idalia, CO, equidistant from Denver, CO and Colorado Springs, CO. Idalia is an agricultural community where the pastor rubs shoulders with farmers, homesteaders and folks who cherish their independent lifestyles. We are excited to roll up our sleeves with someone who feels called to a community that honors its rich history as well as the tranquility of eastern Colorado life. The Idalia K-12 School is proud of a strong teacher to student ratio, with applauded excellence throughout academics, extracurriculars, and sports. The church parsonage provides our pastor modern accommodations on the church property. We support our local school, value education and champion common sense.

In the tradition of the Congregational Way, we have a church culture that celebrates an expansive faith for every person, nurtures a positive spiritual journey following Christ, and desires our congregation to continue to be a vital part of our regional community.

For more information or to apply, use the NACCC job portal or email search committee chair Brian Lengel - brianlengel@gmail.com